

BERNARDINE OF SIENA - 1380-1444

STUDY QUESTIONS

Scripture: Various

How Business Ought To Be Carried

- 1. What boundaries should exist between religious leadership and civic or political responsibilities?
 - Consider how these boundaries can impact the integrity and mission of both religious and secular institutions in modern society.
- 2. In what ways might greed and the pursuit of wealth affect our ability to make ethical decisions in business and personal life?
 - Reflect on contemporary examples where the desire for profit has led to compromised values or harm to others.
- 3. How can we ensure that our work, whether secular or religious, contributes to the common good rather than personal gain?
 - Discuss practical steps to align our professional and personal lives with the greater good, considering both community impact and individual responsibility.
- 4. What dangers arise when religious figures become entangled in secular matters, and how can we avoid these pitfalls today?
 - Explore scenarios where religious leaders might be drawn into non-religious roles and the potential consequences for their spiritual mission and public perception.
- 5. How can the principles of fairness and honesty in business, as discussed in the speech, be applied to modern-day practices in various industries?
 - Consider how ethical business practices can be upheld in today's fast-paced, profit-driven world, and the role of accountability in ensuring fairness.

Notes

Feedback

If you develop any questions you feel would better serve group discussion, let us know and we would love to consider updating & including them.

Email us: imagosermonproject@gmail.com

Partner with us!

If you like this type of content and want more of it, please consider partnering with us. In Canada, The Sermon Project is fully charitable and all donations receive a tax-deductible receipt. If you're outside Canada, we would love for you to partner with us too, but unfortunately cannot offer a tax receipt.

For donation links: <https://sermonproject.com/donate/>